DRAFT Introduction

This reference book is a draft: it is unfinished and that should be considered when reading it. Special attention should be paid to text marked DRAFT, EDIT, or TK.

This reference book is part of a larger project, Teraum. Teraum is a tragically funny fantasy world to be implemented as role-playing game resources, stories, and radioplays. Teraum is a fantasy world in early and active drafting stages being created by emsenn. For more information, see https://emsenn.net/teraum/

DRAFT Geography and Settlements of the Farsteppes

DRAFT Areas

County Oru

Horsefolk Territory

Horsefolk Territory is the large region of the Farsteppes - most of it - that is still unclaimed and uncharted by the Red Union and affiliated organizations.

While the horsefolk are largely nomadic, there are many small settlements scattered throughout the region.

DRAFT Settlements

Most settlements in the region are collections of dung and thatch huts. It is tradition in the region to paint the houses with the local red clay, in a game. The owner of the hut dips their hand in clay paint and strikes their hand against the wall. Others in the community call out animals and shapes, and owner attempts to paint them.

Helmet's Dent

Helmet's Dent is a human town in the Farsteppes. Originally a mining community, it has become a trading community that facilitates commerce between the nomadic human tribes of the Farsteppes and the settled humans in the Central Plains.
